

PANDA NOIR

Bio

Take the rawness of the Black Keys, the rock 'n roll of the Arctic Monkeys, the clarity of Echobloom and put it in the blender! Throw on your sexiest outfit, grab your guitar and pull your mother-in-law into Nirvana's moshpits. The result: PANDA NOIR.

PANDA NOIR is an indie-pop/rockband with songs that playfully combine toughness with sincerity, and joy with despair. Esmé's metaphorical melodies are backed up by tight guitars and a fat groove, portraying powerful fantasy-like images that will echo your dreams. These mind-boggling guitars and danceable beats are going to haunt you forever.

It is said a live show of PANDA NOIR is scientifically proven to be unforgettable.

That's just how sexy, cool and energetic they are.

Don't believe it? Try it!

PANDA NOIR started as PANDA in 2015. After two years writing and recording, Keanu and Esmé decided to continue the band with a new guitar player and drummer. From medio 2017 they have worked on their debut album, to be revealed early 2019 by the name PANDA NOIR.
